Water Service Interruption Notice

Construction

Work is moving along well on this project as the new watermain is now installed.

Part of the next steps to completion is connecting the residential water service to the new watermain. Crews will need to shut-off the watermain to make these connections and your service may be affected. These interruptions will occur intermittently between the last week of August and first week of September; no work is planned over the long weekend.

You are advised to store as much water as will be necessary for your needs during the period the water service connection is completed. In addition, you should protect any water using appliances (water heater, boiler, water softener) that may be affected by the outage. When the water service is restored, please flush your plumbing system by opening the faucets for a brief period to remove trapped air.

The contractor, Knappett Industries Ltd., will be providing advance notice including the dates and times of the planned interruption to your water service.

We regret this unavoidable interruption of service and thank you for your cooperation.
