

ENVIRONMENTAL ADVISORY COMMITTEE

MEMBER PROFILE: KATHLEEN RUSSELL

The City of Campbell River's Environmental Advisory Committee makes recommendations to Council on environmental matters concerning water, land and air. The committee is made up of community members with the unique skills and knowledge to provide Council with thoughtful and comprehensive advice.

Kathleen Russell represents the industrial side of the EAC.

She holds a Bachelor of Environmental Science and has been employed by Quinsam Coal Corporation (QCC) as an environmental technician for the last two and a half years.

Kathleen is responsible for ensuring that QCC operates in compliance with permit limits.

She actively engages with government officials and the public, presenting information about QCC operating procedures and the company's surface water management system quality results.

Kathleen is a recent member of the EAC and looks forward to actively participating and addressing environmental issues around Campbell River.
