Ask Luke

Help the neighbourhood breathe easy.

When your wood stove is burning properly, only heat shimmers should rise from the chimney. If it's smoking, the wood isn't burning completely, polluting the air with fine particulate matter that contributes to respiratory disease. Never burn wet wood, wood that has been in salt water, plastic or garbage. Find out more about Burning It Smart and the City of Campbell River Woodstove Exchange program at www.campbellriver.ca or call us at 250-286-5727.
