

January 7, 2016

New Park Finder map on City website

A new park finder map at www.campbellriver.ca is ready to help people searching for parks and recreation information in Campbell River.

The new easy-to-use Park Finder works on a desktop computer or mobile device and helps users locate a park or recreation facility and obtain information about recreation activities in the community.

There are three ways to locate a park or recreation activity information.

1. simply enter an address or park name
2. select an activity using the search box
3. or, from a mobile device, use "Locate" to find parks within one kilometre

No matter which method is used, the parks or recreation areas will be highlighted on the map. Relevant information about available recreation activities will also be displayed.

Planning a wedding or special event? Use Park Finder to determine which parks have electricity. then contact City recreation staff to confirm the availability of that park on the day you have in mind and make the arrangements for permits and bookings.

Park Finder can be accessed using the City of Campbell River's website, under Maps. Please note, maps are best viewed using the Chrome search engine.

And while you're checking out the Park Finder, take a look at the other interactive maps offered at <http://www.campbellriver.ca/city-services/maps>. The new air photo history map, real estate map and Official Community Plan maps are all available online here.

For public inquires and webmap support, please call the City of Campbell River at 250-286-5700 and ask for the geographic information services staff.

###

Media contact: Warren Kalyn, Information Technology Manager

250-286-5716