New Community Partnership Committee appointments

Campbell River City Council has re-appointed two members to the Community Partnership Committee. Danna Lamb and Gregory Batt are returning members who were initially appointed to the committee for a one-year term in April 2015.

"I can't emphasize enough how much Council appreciates the dedication, advice and recommendations of committee volunteers," says Mayor Andy Adams.

The Community Partnership Committee makes recommendations to Council on the award of Permissive Tax Exemptions for non-profit organizations performing valuable work in the community. The committee also recommends grants-in-aid for recreation and culture organizations in Campbell River.

Both re-appointments are for a three-year term, ending March 31, 2019.
