The Community Centre is Celebrating

The Community Centre will be decked out with memorabilia this Saturday to commemorate 10 years of Community Centre service in Campbell River.

A retrospective art display celebrating the story of the old Community Hall and the new Community Centre will decorate the halls, and people will also be able to view Jim Leishman's sculpture-story called A Shaping of Awareness. The Community Centre aims to keep the art retrospective of images and text in the centre's halls for at least a year.

"The City's recreation staff invite everyone to check out the displays," says Michele Sirett, the City's recreation and culture supervisor. "We've had a lot of visitors and program participants over the years. You may find a picture of yourself!"

The Centre will also be the place to pick up those popular spirit bowls filled with wholesome soup in support of the local food bank.

The Community Centre Open House will be the place to be between 11 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. on Saturday, Feb. 26.
