Commission members announced

Campbell River City Council has appointed members to fill vacant positions on two advisory commissions and the City's Board of Variance.

Filling terms that had expired on the Advisory Planning & Environment Commission are re-appointed William Wagner and Helen Whitaker and newly-appointed Robert Rounds.

Filling the vacant position on the Board of Variance is Dave Ludvigson.

The terms for these appointments will run from April 1, 2014 until March 31, 2017.

"With both commissions and the Board of Variance operating at full capacity, the volunteers will continue to provide important advice and recommendations to City Council on a range of topics, and help build an even better Campbell River," say City Clerk Peter Wipper.
